A little bit about Toma...

Toma Clark Haines is an American expat who has lived overseas for 20 years in Paris, Amsterdam, Berlin, and now Venice. She’s an entrepreneur, writer, international speaker, global tastemaker, and the Founder/CEO of The Antiques Diva® & Co -- the world’s largest antiques touring company offering tours in 15 countries and on 3 continents: Europe, Asia, and America. Industry experts recognize Toma as a “cool hunter” frequently hiring her to forecast interior design trends.

After years of being inspired by traveling the world and sourcing the best art & antiques Toma began designing furniture and jewelry. In January 2018, Toma launched TCH Collection - Lush Decadence Couture Jewelry. In 2019 the brand expands to include handbags and smoking slipper in association with Bevilaqua and Pied a Terre. Her first licensed furniture collection - The Antiques Diva Collection by Aidan Gray Home - launches October 2018 at High Point Fall Market 2018.

Architectural Digest’s Hadley Keller has dubbed Toma as "the woman in red lipstick";

Veranda magazine’s Clint Smith says she’s “the most well-liked woman in the design industry”; and

Vogue’s Lynn Yaeger calls her a “woman of the world.”
The Antiques Diva Collection, by Aidan Gray

Luxury furniture company Aidan Gray Home is launching The Antiques Diva Collection by Aidan Gray at the fall High Point Market, Oct. 13-17, 2018. The collection pays homage with traditional designs to the past while looking to the future with modern materials and concepts. It’s all about the Mix - Making Traditional Modern.
In 2018 Toma Clark Haines launched the TCH Collection – Lush Decadence Couture Jewelry in Paris, which offers one-of-a-kind, hand-made semi-precious jewelry.

"Toma Clark Haines -- antique polymath, woman of the world, and now, designer and creator of lushly decadent jewelry. Who doesn’t want a serpent coiled around her finger, or a pair of golden wings to fly to new heights?"

~ Lynn Yaeger, Contributing Editor @ Vogue
Working with a local goldsmith in Venice, our 2nd collection is handcrafted by a talented group of artisans who have been in the business for decades, and work with many high-end clients such as Attilio Codognato and Elton John.
Designing shoes and handbags is the next logical step for accessories maven Toma Clark Haines. Working in an agreement with Pied a Terre to match our new jewelry collection with their Furlane Veneziane we are creating chic shoes for men and women. Our handbag collection partners with Bevilaqua to incorporate our purse designs with their velvets and damasks as well as the “soprarizzo” velvet which is still woven by hand. Marrying ostrich, crocodile and luxe leathers with luxury fabrics and semi-precious stones the collection incorporates vintage Italian hardware in every piece.
Collaborations

Toma’s background in advertising and business has helped her launch three businesses operating on 3 continents, and build successful brand partnerships in design and luxury products and travel. Frequently hired as a Brand Ambassador, Spokesperson or Creative Director for a variety of collaborations. From being dubbed Bikini Brand Ambassador for Dutch company BoxerinBlue Swim & Resortwear, to having a fragrance named after her by Pandora de Balthazár, she’s been a Spokesperson for the Castle Bromwich Echoes furniture collection by Theodore Alexander, AskChattic, Ronati, and High Point Antique and Design Center.
